SWAMP IN AUTUMN

Into the cypress swell, I roam,
Casting ripples round the dome—
Borne upon the water's shine,
Every tree a beating shrine—
Liminal, the leaves reply:
Their golden needles thread the sky.

CONTRIBUTOR NOTES

Chris Ali is currently a student studying visual art at East Georgia State College in Augusta.

---

Elizabeth Aslakson is a graduate student in the online Masters in English and Creative Nonfiction Writing program at Southern New Hampshire University. She lives in Georgia with her children and husband, an active duty soldier stationed at Ft. Gordon. One of her goals is to help bridge the gap between military and civilian communities through her writing.

---

Sarah M. C. Baugh is a writer and photographer born and raised in Upstate New York. When she was younger, she wanted to be a nun, but now she only hears silence when she calls out into the dark. Her work can be found in Gulf Coast. She makes her home in Athens, Georgia, with her husband and two daughters.

Cortney Cameron is a Tampa-area geoscientist and writer. Her work has been featured in The Appalachian Journal and The Dead Mule School of Southern Literature. She recently released her first chapbook, Geologist in Love, and is co-author of Nature Spirit Walks Tarot and the forthcoming Catians: Resurrection comic.

---

Nancy Naomi Carlson's work has appeared in AGNI, American Poetry Review, FIELD, and other journals. Author of the prize-winning poetry collection Kings Highway, as well as two chapbooks, she has published three volumes of translations
